Track 1B PFS – New Missouri Prompt Pay Laws, Daniel J. Body & Suzanne B. Strothkamp, Greensfelder Hemker & Gale, P.C.

Hospitals and other health care providers throughout Missouri have continued to be financially challenged by the amount uncompensated care associated with the provision of services to the uninsured and Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries. Further compounding those pressures have been additional challenges due to the payment practices of third party commercial payors. Those practices by certain third party payors that have adversely affected provider reimbursement include denials, suspended claims and other delays in payment pertaining to services that were legitimately provided to beneficiaries and covered under those plans. In response to these issues and a 2009 study commissioned by Governor Nixon, the Missouri legislature passed and Governor Nixon signed into law a new Prompt Pay Law in April 2010 requiring health insurance companies in Missouri to make timely payments to physicians, hospitals and other health care providers. This session will provide an overview of the new Missouri Prompt Pay Law, its history, intended benefits and potential gaps.

1:30 – 3:00 p.m. Breakout Sessions (2 Concurrent Sessions)

Track 2A Financial – Credit Markets - Arlan Dohrmann

2008 was a year of financial turmoil in the credit and financial markets. Beginning in February 2009 a nascent economic recovery began with the passage of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Stimulus Bill). The ARRA was followed by the passage of the Health Care Reform Law while other major pieces of legislation including the Financial Services Reform initiatives have been moving through the Senate and House of Representatives. Where are the Credit Markets today and where are they headed? How has the turmoil in the Credit Markets impacted hospitals and healthcare providers' ratings, financing, and investing?
